Croatia is famous for its stunning coastline along the stunning Adriatic Sea. What makes it even more astonishing is the fact that Croatia is home to over a thousand islands! From popular tourist destinations like Hvar and Brač to secluded and untouched islets, these islands offer picturesque landscapes and crystal-clear waters, perfect for sailing or simply basking in the sun.

2. The Inventor of the Necktie

Did you know that the necktie, a prominent fashion accessory around the world, was invented in Croatia? In the 17th century, Croatian mercenaries wore distinctive neckwear to hold their jackets together. This unique fashion statement caught the attention of French soldiers during the Thirty Years' War, who then brought it to Paris and made it popular. Thus, the necktie was born!

3. The UNESCO World Heritage Sites

Croatia boasts an impressive number of UNESCO World Heritage Sites. One of the most famous is the city of Dubrovnik, known for its well-preserved medieval walls and stunning architecture. Other notable sites include Plitvice Lakes National Park with its cascading waterfalls and Krka National Park, home to jaw-dropping landscapes and breathtaking waterfalls.

4. The Oldest European Town

If you're a history enthusiast, you'll be fascinated to know that Stari Grad, located on the island of Hvar, is the oldest continuously inhabited town in Europe. Its origins date back to the ancient Greeks in 384 BC. Walking through its narrow streets, you can witness the layers of history and marvel at the well-preserved architecture from different periods.

5. The Heavenly Plitvice Lakes

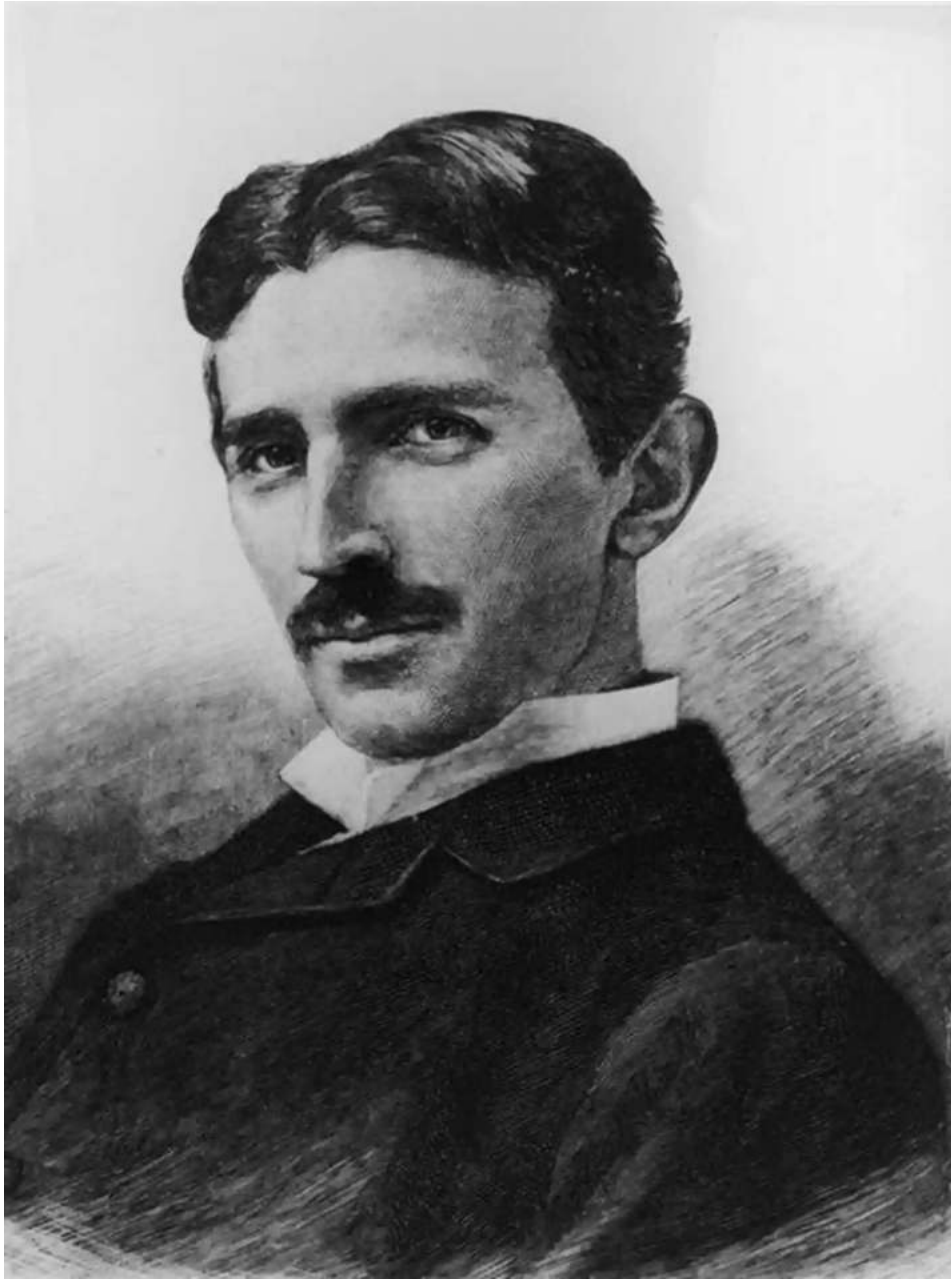

Prepare to be amazed by the surreal beauty of Plitvice Lakes National Park. Located in central Croatia, this UNESCO World Heritage Site is a true gem. With its mesmerizing turquoise lakes interconnected by cascading waterfalls, wooden footbridges traverse the park, providing astonishing views at every turn. Plitvice Lakes National Park is a must-visit for nature lovers and adventurers.

6. The Game of Thrones Connection

Game of Thrones fans rejoice! Many iconic scenes were filmed in the stunning city of Dubrovnik, which served as the backdrop for King's Landing, the capital of the Seven Kingdoms. Exploring Dubrovnik's ancient walls and narrow streets will make you feel like you're walking through the fantastical world of the popular TV series.

7. The Homeland of Nikola Tesla

Croatia proudly claims that Nikola Tesla, one of the greatest inventors and scientists of all time, was born on its soil. Tesla's contributions to the fields of electricity and magnetism revolutionized the world. His groundbreaking inventions, such as the alternating current (AC) system, continue to shape our modern lives.

8. The Colorful Festival of Sails

Every summer, the town of Zadar hosts a mesmerizing event called the Festival of Sails. This regatta attracts sailors from all around the world to showcase their skills and compete against each other. The beautiful sight of colorful sails covering the Adriatic Sea creates a magical atmosphere, bringing together sport, culture, and community.

9. The Crystal-Clear Sea Caves

Croatia's coastline is dotted with magnificent sea caves waiting to be explored. One of the most famous is the Blue Cave, located on the island of Biševo. Its surreal blue glow, caused by natural light refraction, creates an otherworldly experience for visitors. Exploring these caves by boat or kayak will leave you in awe of nature's wonders.

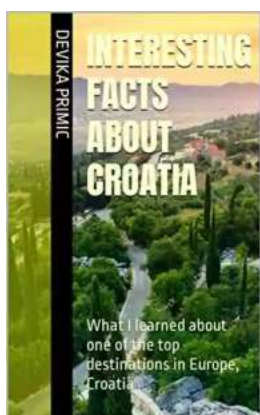

10. The Traditional Delicacies

Croatia's culinary scene is a treasure trove of delightful surprises. From mouth-watering seafood dishes to fragrant truffle-infused specialties, Croatian cuisine offers a diverse range of flavors. Don't forget to try the traditional dish called "Peka," which consists of meat and vegetables slow-cooked under an iron dome, ensuring a heavenly taste that will leave you craving more.

Interesting information about Croatia, a small country not often noticed by you. There is so much to know about this beautiful place. I moved to Croatia in 2002 and since then have become interested in its surroundings, small villages and of how the local people live from day-to-day. These facts are fascinating, to one's mind. From the many pebble beaches to a few sandy beaches, and about the best olive oil from a region called Konavle where I made my home.

I believe that a place like this needs the attention of others and you will find the many ways one can become in love with such love. As a foreigner living in the most southern part, I have made a home and have grown close to what makes me feel safe. The main idea for this read is to improve the knowledge of readers about the facts of olive oil, olive trees and the other many facts about Croatia. Carob fruit is a unique fruit you can read all about here. Protected plants and the types of herbal plants that grow in Croatia make this write up a valuable one from all the information given. I have visited many of the places mentioned and hope you can too find it in your heart to visit one day. Life here is amazing!

Learn about this country and its beautiful sights from the Interesting facts about Croatia. I am an expat living in Croatia and hope you find this read well-researched. It is from my experience giving you the details in accuracy and so worth the time. Interesting facts about Croatia opens the minds of readers to know more about this beautiful country. A way of life for the Croatian people was taken for granted by others and this shows one should appreciate their comforts before retiring in Croatia. A place filled with its rich traditions, and to make you know that there is no place like Croatia. The lifestyle is different and the way people talk, eat, and enjoy themselves is far from a westernized lifestyle. People here find a use for everything that grows in their gardens. There is nothing that goes to waste and knowing more about this interesting place I have written what I know and have experienced in my life in Croatia. Anything you do in Croatia feels unique and inspiring as an expat I noticed that life here is peaceful and safe. I had no idea of what to expect and after I moved here I realized there is no life better than this one. Everybody and including me, I do whatever we can in a day. There is no rush into doing anything from the moment you get up it is just a slow approach to making a cuppa coffee, to daily chores.

Informative and most impressive from my view here. I heard so much about Croatia but didn't think much of it until I moved here. Well, that goes to show I needed to get here and see for myself. As interesting and safe Croatia is most local people do not see in their lives what Croatia has to offer.

In plain sight I see the safe environment, the life is different to what I had in my past However you see it that doesn't matter but to learn about what Croatia has to offer is rewarding and amazing!

Croatia as lots offer to you and I have written what I know will be a guide to your travels here and to believe in yourself.

In detail and about what you had no idea of. Croatia is a small country and living in a small community can be difficult if you do not want other people in your business. Gossiping about you and other people can be a turn off to living here. In all this depends on you to know where you want to live and what you want to do with your life, Interesting Croatia sounds you will enjoy the offerings and the company of the older generation. Nature is beautiful and gave me an opportunity to write about it.

The birds, fish, beaches, creative sites, and the traditional fares are to entertain you when you feel walking by the bay is too quiet for you.

Interesting facts about Croatia has given me a wider thought about living in this place. Each morning is a new experience.
