Embrace the Digital Nomad Lifestyle

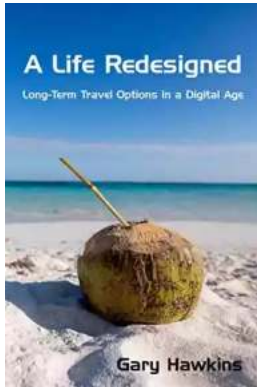

The rise of the digital nomad lifestyle has revolutionized the way we perceive work and travel. Traditional office spaces are being replaced by coworking spaces, and desks are traded for stunning beaches and vibrant cafés around the world. Being a digital nomad allows you to break free from the confines of an office and experience the richness of different cultures, all while earning a living.

To join the digital nomad community, you will need a reliable laptop or tablet, a strong internet connection, and of course, your skills and expertise. Many professionals are embracing this lifestyle, from graphic designers and web developers to writers and marketers. The digital nomad lifestyle gives you the freedom to choose where you want to live, how you want to work, and when you want to explore.

In early 2018, Gary Hawkins and his wife, Yafei Zhu, made a monumental change in their lives - they both quit their high-tech jobs at the peak of their careers and decided to travel around the world with their daughter, Joy. Gary had planned on retiring in his early fifties inspired by his working-class parents who achieved the same goal thirty years earlier; while Yafei wanted to be a fully engaged parent during Joy's formative years. Different goals in life have led them both to explore "A Life Redesigned" - a transition away from the traditional American Dream to a simpler, family-centric traveling experience. The book [A Life Redesigned] was therefor born.

Their travels are not based on the usual sense of short-term trips to tick off another item on a bucket list. Rather, they try and visit places for several months to get a feel for the community, experience the local customs, and see how different communities live.

No matter whether you are getting close to retirement, a millennial, or from Generation X, this book gives you the tools to prepare for an extended travel lifestyle. If you still need to work, A Life Redesigned has you covered and discusses a multitude of ways to make money on the road.
