

The Immersive and Captivating Dia De Los Muertos Indoor Altars in Seattle, Washington

The vibrant and colorful celebration of Dia De Los Muertos, or Day of the Dead, is a tradition deeply rooted in Mexican culture. Every year, people come together to honor and remember their loved ones who have passed away. The city of Seattle, Washington, embraces this beautiful festivity with its own unique twist by hosting indoor altars that captivate and immerse visitors in the rich traditions of this holiday.

What is Dia De Los Muertos?

Dia De Los Muertos is a time for families to gather and celebrate the lives of their departed loved ones. The belief behind this celebration is that visiting the graves of ancestors and building altars at home will attract and guide the spirits of the deceased to reunite with their families on this day.

This holiday is celebrated from October 31st to November 2nd, aligning with the Catholic holidays of All Saints' Eve, All Saints' Day, and All Souls' Day. However, Dia De Los Muertos has indigenous roots that predate the arrival of the Spanish conquistadors in Mexico.

An Immersive Experience in Seattle

While Dia De Los Muertos is traditionally celebrated outdoors in cemeteries or by creating altars in homes, Seattle has taken this experience to a whole new level by hosting indoor altars in various venues across the city. These altars provide an immersive experience for visitors, combining the traditional elements of Dia De Los Muertos with modern artistic interpretations.

Seattle's indoor altars beautifully showcase the iconic sugar skulls, marigold flowers, candles, and photographs of loved ones. Each altar is thoughtfully curated, telling the stories of those who are being honored.

The altars are often accompanied by live music, dance performances, and storytelling sessions that engage visitors of all ages. The atmosphere is filled with a sense of warmth, reverence, and celebration as families and individuals come together to honor their deceased loved ones.

Seattle's Dia De Los Muertos Community

Seattle's vibrant Latino community plays a crucial role in organizing and hosting Dia De Los Muertos indoor altars across the city. The community brings together their cultural traditions, creativity, and passion to create an unforgettable experience for both locals and visitors.

The indoor altars are often held in community centers, art galleries, and cultural hubs that are easily accessible to everyone. The venues serve as spaces for people to connect, learn, and appreciate the diverse cultures that make up the fabric of Seattle.

This picture book is for those who want to see and can't. Travel and picture taking are two of my favorite past times. Recently a friend's health deteriorated and they were no longer able to get out and see the world. That is when PS-Places was born. To bring the outdoors in for those that can't go.
