Are you worried about the rising cost of retirement? Is your retirement nest egg not as much as you had planned or hoped to save? Are you looking for a way to live comfortably once you stop working?

Consider living abroad!

It is my pleasure to share with you the experiences of the world's most frugal retiree travelers. I hope that this book provides inspiration and direction.

There are 10 specific places where you can comfortably live off $1,500/month or LESS!

I would like to encourage you to take a journey that will change the way you look at the world. Post-retirement is a beautiful thing, and you don't have to wait until your 50s or 60s to enjoy it.

It's common for retirees to enjoy retirement by taking stock of their life, enjoying the freedom from the 9-to-5 grind, and doing what they like. Others may see it as a chance to fulfill their long-held dreams and travel overseas. It is imperative you know the benefits and drawbacks of retiring abroad if you can't decide what kind of life you want following the end of your professional career.

This book offers you a chance to live a life of leisure for as little as $1,500 a month. Within the pages of this guide, I will explain how Linda and I paid off our mortgage and left the U.S. in less than a year after retiring. So, the sooner you plan for the retirement phase, the more money you will save. The 10 countries I recommend span a wide range, from a surfers' haven in Nicaragua, where you can live like royalty for $1,300 USD per month, to metropolitan Bangkok with uber-esque conveniences and luxury epicenters.

We are living the dream; you can, too!

I would state that Linda and I have found our dream lifestyle—for about 1/10th of what it would cost us here in America. Many people are too afraid to even think about retiring overseas because they think it will be too expensive or difficult. Life for us in Nazare, Portugal, has proven to be affordable and easy (and life-affirming). It's been over four years since we moved to Nazare, and we're no closer to returning than when we arrived. This place is home.
